Monterey, Owen County.

And still it rains, "occasionally." Mrs. Judge Fitzgerald is improving. Mr. Lilly is very low with pneumonia. Mr. J. D. Gray is still confined to his bed. Farmers are quite busy burning tobacco beds.

Mrs. Winfield Witholt has been quite ill for some time.

Mr. J. A. Ireland paid a flying visit to Monterey last Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Gray, of Covington, is visiting her son, Mr. J. B. Gray.

W. D. Hadley returned home Tuesday from a business trip to Louisville.

Walter Schofield, of Harrisburg, paid a visit to his family last Sunday.

Mr. Joel S. Head and wife have been quite ill, but are now convalescent.

Mr. Alfred Forman returned home last Thursday after an absence of several days.

Miss Bettie Todd, who has been visiting E. T. Cuvier, returned home last Tuesday.

Mr. Joel Fuller lost a fine horse last week by jumping a fence and breaking his neck.

Prof. George T. Hickman commenced his school last Monday. Success to you, George.

Mr. Houghton Prentiss paid our little town a visit last week. Glad to see you, Houghton.

We have a growing colored school in the suburbs. Mr. J. T. Hickman, of the Rev. Cal. Hoffman, of color.

Mrs. Mattie Witholt, who has been visiting friends in Frankfort the past week, returned home Wednesday.

Rev. J. A. Head and A. Forman have been quite busy this week, they have bought several fine crops of tobacco.

Things are beginning to look quite lively for the present. We have daily trains through to Louisville and Cincinnati.

Any information regarding "Daisy" will be thankfully received by G. T. Hickman, as "hope deferred" maketh the heart sick.

W. M. Combs, of this place, is visiting relatives in Lockport this week. His long absence is a source of great distress to a little brunette of this town.

Since the Elkhorn bridge has washed away, we would suggest that you build a "rain bridge" across the pike to the line. By so doing it would encourage the citizens of Monterey to extend this end of the pike to the line and then we would have a good turnpike from Frankfort through to the Ohio river.

At Revere.

For a long time there has been a need for just such a monument as Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Jett's Station.

Farmers will begin sowing oats this week. Without crop out this way does not look very well.

We understand Mr. Mark Cronwell is talked of for sheriff.

Mr. Tom Clayton will run the farm this year for Mr. Owen.

Will have a post office at this place this week, Lee A. Owen, P. M.

Mr. Will French was out collecting taxes in this neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Lucie Owen returned from a four weeks' visit to Carroll county last week.

Mr. Lettie Jett and Mrs. Fanny Cully will visit friends in Shelby county this week.

Mr. Craig says the F. P. A. G. R. runs as they have survived it he is going to sell his place off in corner lots.

Mr. Tom Bedford has purchased some high grade hogs from Bourbon county. More of us ought to do likewise.

As you have not heard from White School House for some time, thought I would drop you a few lines under our new name.

Hon. J. W. Tate, State Treasurer, got out here Monday and said Mr. Geo. Mocklin, who was standing on the platform of the case, was working his way to Lexington.

Geo. Noel and another man broke in Mr. H. Hearn's last Sunday evening, while the family was away, and stole flour, coffee, &c., and hid them in a thicket of Mr. Scott's and came back after dark to get the stolen goods. Noel was captured by Messrs. Henry and Geo. Hearn and delivered to the jailer Sunday night.

Spooks.

Wm. Hartman, Louisville, says: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility and shattered constitution with good results."

Garden seeds in bulk at Banta's.

Chickens, geese, fish, and oysters at Banta's.

The Morris-Staines Company sold, the first of the week, 450,000 feet of walnut lumber to parties in Canada.

Mrs. Sarah Lockett sold, the first of the week, her house and lot on Shelby street, opposite Judge Craddock's residence, to Mr. Sidney French for $1,200.

Hon. J. Q. Chenoweth, Senator from this district in the Legislature of 1870-71, is at present a member of the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature.

Talk is cheap but there is no flour equal to J. E. M. Don't let anybody talk you into paying as much for an inferior flour as you have to pay for J. E. M. Price $4 00 per 100 pounds.

The steamboats are fighting each other in rates, and from the way they are cutting down prices we may soon expect them to offer to take passengers for nothing and throw in free drinks and a chromo.

The remains of Mrs. Lizzie Montgomery, of Lexington, were brought to this city Tuesday morning and taken down to LeCompte's Bottom, on the Fannie Freese, for interment in the old family burying ground. The deceased was an aunt of Mr. Joe LeCompte, of this city.

We are under obligations to Mr. Edmond Power for one of the prettiest as well as the most fragrant bouquets we have seen this season. His large green houses on the hill above the city are now filled with a large and well selected stock of flowering plants, which he is supplying to customers on short notice.

Judging from the way some of our citizens are protesting against the location of the Opera House that indignation meeting will yet be held. The City Council wrestled with the question again Tuesday night without coming to a final vote, and laid it over to await the return of Councilman McClure.

Rev. Aaron Green, a colored Methodist preacher and for many years a resident of this city, died in Cincinnati, on the 6th inst., at the advanced age of 55 years. The deceased will be remembered by our older citizens as "Doctor" Green, who for thirty years was presman at the old Common wealth office, and a man highly respected by all who knew him, both white and colored. He was raised in Lexington, being a slave of the Keiser family, who sold him to Mr. Sayre, and was by him sold to the late Col. A. G. Hodges, who allowed him to buy himself and then retained him in his employ. As a boy we learned to respect this good old man, and as we grew to manhood that feeling increased with our years. He is gone and we revere his memory. He died as he had lived—a Christian. Peace to his ashes.

Messrs. Stagg, Hume & Co., who represent the E. H. Taylor, Jr., Co., will shortly establish in this city a bottling factory for bottling the O. F. C. Carlisle and J. S. Taylor brands of whisky. They have engaged the services of Mr. L. B. Warren, who is stated to be thoroughly familiar with the business and a gentleman of intelligence and large business capacity, to conduct the operations of the factory. Mr. Warren has recently, with his son, located on the South Side. There has been so much piracy in the sale of inferior whisky in bottles as O. F. C. whisky, one Chicago firm having even been caught selling cases of empty bottles labelled O. F. C. that the E. H. Taylor, Jr., Co. are determined to protect their brands under their own seal and trademark, and at the same time supply the wants of that large class of citizens who don't want to buy a barrel, but only a bottle or two, of genuine O. F. C.

The parties have leased a section of South's large warehouse near the depot, and are engaged putting in the necessary machinery.

A Frankfort Boy in the Land of the Greaser.

PERQUERA, STATE OF SONORA, MEXICAN REPUBLIC, March 3d, 1883.

Editor Roundabout.

From my earliest childhood I have heard and read of the "Garden of Eden," but I have certainly found that place here, and Moses must have made a mistake when he said it was on the other side of the desert. I arrived in the city of Hermosillo on the morning of March 1st, and as I was right from the "snowy range" of New Mexico, to come straight into the sun-bathed tropics of "the land of Montezuma," where men go barefooted twelve months in the year, is enough to make one fall in love with such a country. Hermosillo is the Capital of the State of Sonora, and Gen'l Enriquez is the Governor. Hermosillo is the prettiest town I have ever seen. All the streets are shaded with orange trees, and the trees are hanging full of ripe fruit. In company with a friend of mine, Mr. A. P. Liddle, I took a stroll through the Plaza, in front of the Governor's palace, and there I saw orange, fig and lemon trees with foliage that reminded me of the forests at home, in the summer months. All sorts of flowers are numerous here, and in full bloom. The weather is warm, but not sultry. All kinds of tropical birds are here and of the most beautiful plumage. Even the poll parrot is found here, as is the mockingbird. In fact, the entire class of Mexican birds are here and of the most beautiful plumage. The enterprising class of Mexicans welcome the Americans here, but the common "Greaser," or the lower class, are still holding that old war prejudice against us, and say "Take out Texas, and we can whip you." This is a sample phrase of their common intelligence. There are two tribes of Indians here, they are the Papagos and the "Yakis" or Yaquis. The former are lazy and indolent, but the latter work on the railroad, and are more industrious. The "Heaven Chicks" are also seen here. We have a Chinese cook, and he is a good one too. "John" knows his business. I am agent and operator at this point, and am only 25 miles from the beautiful capital city. It does look so funny to me to see men, women and children here going barefooted, though the climate will admit of the like. Oranges and lemons here sell for a cent a piece. The lemons are sweet, but there is a small species of lemon here called "limes," that are sourer than the oldest acid in America. I wonder if I can't come back there and persuade one of those pretty Frankfort girls to come over here with me. I will see about it when I get back to the United States. I will enclose my address, and you can let my little friend, "THE ROUNDABOUT," come on. Whatever the postage is I will pay the same by forwarding you the money. I must have the Roundabout at my cost.

I am your friend throughout time,
G. G. G.

Thousands are being cured of Catarrh every year with Hall's Catarrh Cure. That the doctors had given up and said could not be cured 75 cents a bottle. Sold by Joseph LeCompte, Druggist, South Side.

Rev. J. E. Wright, of this city, who has had charge of the Methodist Church at Highlands, near Newport, has been transferred to the churches at Georgetown and Oxford.

Wm. Hastings, Louisville, Ky., says: "I have suffered from vertigo and general debility. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, and am now well."

Mrs. Mary E. Triplett, for many years a resident of this city, died in Blytheville, Arkansas, on the 5th inst.—the same day on which Mrs. Maria Church, another old resident, died in Missouri.

Mr. Dan. Meigs, jr., has opened a neat little confectionery in the room on Ann street recently purchased by him of Mr. V. Berberich, where he will constantly be found hereafter. In connection with the same he has established a first class restaurant, where a good meal can be had at any time, day or night. Call and see him when hungry.

Tuesday morning a jury viewed and condemned a strip of Mrs. Jonett's lot forty feet wide, in front of her residence, running the width of the lot, and assessed the damage at $1,050. The city proposes to open Ewing street through her premises from Second to Cross streets. She had been offered $1,300 by the city for the ground, but refused.

Payne & Berry, Insurance Agents, offer special inducements on all classes of farm property. The companies represented by them are among the largest and oldest in the world, and their rates as cheap as the cheapest. Policies written from one to five years, and the interests of their patrons protected always, as they supervise the adjustment of all losses. For prompt payment of losses they refer to Dr. W. H. Hall, Jas. M. Wakefield, E. Power, George Bahr, and many others. For rates, &c., apply at their office on St. Clair street, opposite Old Mansion House Block, Frankfort, Ky.

Miles' Crystal Flour is sold at $3 75 per 100 pounds, and is guaranteed as good as any patent flour sold in the market, except the J. E. M.

A telephone has been placed in the County Judge's office. The number of the station is 27.

Frankfort Royal Arch Chapter, No. 3, will meet in regular monthly convocation Tuesday evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

FOR SALE.—Desirable residence on Holmes street. For information apply to Mrs. C. A. Prentiss, on the premises.

Hiram Lodge, No. 4, A. Y. M., will hereafter meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays in each month, instead of the second Tuesday, as heretofore.

Eight colored persons who have recently united with the First Independent Baptist Church, were baptised in the river at Henderson's wharf Sunday afternoon.

The J. E. M. Flour is sold in South Frankfort only by H. R. Williams, N. F. & O. T. Richardson, and James Heeley.

Judge Thos. H. Hines has so far recovered his health that he expects to return from Florida about the first of April and resume his labors upon the Appellate bench.

Judge Joseph H. Lewis, of the Court of Appeals, and Mrs. Cattie Johnson, widow of the late Col. Jilson P. Johnson, and niece of Gov. Blackburn will be quietly married at the residence of Hon. Jas. Blackburn in this city, on the 29th inst.

Mr. James Penn, who resides on Moro street, opposite the Fire Works, while cutting dinner Tuesday, came near being choked to death by a piece of meat lodging in his throat. He was relieved by Dr. J. L. Price, who was sent for immediately and arrived in time to save him.

Horse owners can not afford to overlook the wonderful success of Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Mr. Z. T. Thomason made a wager with Mr. W. T. McCloy, last week, that he could break seventy out of one hundred clay pigeons with his shotgun. The stakes were put up and the trial came off Monday afternoon in the rear of the Penitentiary, when exactly seventy pigeons out of the one hundred thrown were broken.

Fresh lettuce and greens at Banta's.

On Saturday night a thief went to the residence of Mr. John Branch, about two miles from this city, on the Shelbyville pike, and effected an entrance by cutting a glass out of the kitchen window, removing the fastening and raising the sash. He then went into the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Branch were sleeping, stole a suit of Mr. B's clothes, which were lying on the chair by the bed, and some other articles, and left. The noise he made in opening a back door, as he was leaving, awakened Mr. Branch, but he failed to catch him or see who he was.

George Noel, an ex-convict who has served three terms in the Penitentiary, and a man by the name of — Masters, went to the residence of Mr. Henry Hearn, near Jet's Station, Sunday morning, during the absence of the family, broke into the house and stole a sack of flour and some clothing, which they hid under some bushes in a field of Col. Robt. W. Scott, a short distance away, where they were found by Mr. Hearn, after discovering his house had been broken into. Instead of removing them Mr. Hearn and his brother secreted themselves near by and waited for the return of the thieves, and when they made their appearance came out from their hiding place and demanded their surrender. Masters ran and made good his escape, but Noel was captured, brought to this city, and lodged in jail. He waived an examination Tuesday, and in default of $200 bond was sent to jail to await the action of the Circuit Court. When taken he had several door keys in his pocket, which had been filed to make it some lock which he had evidently been tampering with.
